(Nervously asking a question, Ms.Fujimura)

(Greetings by Mr.Mabuchi as a student representative)

Mr.Mabuchi, a 2nd-year student of Yokohama Overseas Chinese School, commented: "It was a very good experience to be able to hear stories we usually don't get to. From now on, we will remember what we learned in this lesson and do our best in situations where we have to think about our future."

Other comments of the students after the class are below.

"I now know that it is necessary to harmonize with local people since the languages and cultures are different when working overseas."

"When I have my job in the future, I want to be able to see things from a different perspective."

"From now on, I want to take on the challenge of doing anything I want to or I find enjoyable."

As these comments show, it seems that this class gave the students of Yokohama Overseas Chinese School the time to think about their future and working in Japan and foreign countries and territories such as Taiwan.
