

Comments from GOLDWIN President Takao Watanabe:

"Our company has been making products mindful of environmental issues for 30 years. Nonetheless, the negative impact the fashion industry has on the environment remains so big that there arises a need for measures to stop subsequent environmental destruction and create changes toward a nature-positive environment. As we agree with the vision of 'The Fashion Pact' which is a global initiative aiming for systemic changes in the whole industry, we have decided to take part in such efforts as a member of the organization. We will contribute to ensuring a nature-positive, net zero future by sharing the objectives of 'The Fashion Pact,' participating actively in relevant discussions and activities, and coordinating with other members to take specific action to resolve problems."
